WEEKLY KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, November 29, 1915.—There was some shrinkage of values on nearly every grade of cattle last week, though declines were not severe on any kind. The supply today is 21,000 head, smallest Monday run in nearly three months, and the market is steady to ten higher on killing cattle, and strong to 25 higher on stockers and feeders, the lower edge of the stockers and feeders getting most gain. A feature brought out in the last week in the beef steer trade is that buyers will pay a firm price for prime steers, top $9.40 today, but warmed up cattle sell at a larger margin below the prime cattle than heretofore. It is next to impossible to get by with counterfeits. The warmed up cattle are selling at $7 to $8, and plain cattle that have been simply held up since pastures failed bring $6.25 to $6.75. Cows are scarce today, and bring strong prices, best heavy cows $6 to $6.55, good cows $5.25 to $5.85, canners $3.75 to $4.00, bulls $4.75 to $5.65, Western bulls $4.40 to $5.00, veal calves $8 to $9.50. There was a big drop in receipts of Iowa and Minnesota stockers and butcher cattle today, about 150 car loads arriving. These sold stronger, stock steers largely at $6.25 to $6.75, stock cows and heifers $5 to $6. Fair to good Colorado yearlings and twos sold at $6.50 to $6.90 today, and choice panhandle are still quoted up to $7.75, though none that good were here today. Common grades of stock steers sold at $5.50 to $6. Choice stock cows and heifers bring $5.50 to $6.50, fancy white face heifers more. Shipments out last week were 31,000 head, as compared with 22,000 same week a year ago. Hogs sold 5 to 10 higher today, receipts 12,600. There has been considerable revival in the order buying trade here in the last week, and packers also apparently need more hogs than they are getting. Top price today was $6.77½, bulk of sales $6.40 to $6.70. Choice heavies bring the highest price, with medium weights close behind, and best lights not more than a dime below the others. Hog receipts here show a decrease of 40% so far this month from same days last November, and for the present the hog market has a strong appearance. Sheep and lambs are in light supply, 5000 here today, and prices are going up, 10 to 15 higher today. Best lambs here were some 78 lb. Kansas fed westerns at $8.90, most of the lambs at $8.60 and upwards. Fat ewes are worth up to $5.65, wethers $6.25, light yearlings $7.25, some weighing 94 lbs. today, at $7.00. Feeding lambs are scarce, and sell at $7.50 to $8.25, feeding ewes around $4.25, bred ewes up to $6.50, feeding yearlings $6.50 to $7.00.

Big Cattle Deal

The most important cattle deal made here in many months has just been consummated. J. N. Robertson, cashier of the First National bank of Globe, sold a half interest in the Bar F brand to A. R. McDowell, teller in the Gila Valley bank of Globe, the consideration being about $50,000.

Beggar—I haven't tasted food for a month. Dyspeptic—You ain't missing much. It's the same old taste.

"Dead men tell no tales," observed the Sage. "Maybe not," replied the Fool. "But their tombstones are awful liars."

"Have you made up your mind what party you will vote with next election?" "No," replied Senator Sordum. "In these days of political change a man might as well wait and see what parties there are."

"Did you give your son a liberal education, Mr. Tite?" "Well, I don't know as you'd call it liberal exactly, but there wasn't a month passed while he was in college that I didn't send him two or three dollars."

English Visitor—Did you ever know of an American having an old family servant? American Hostess—Of course. Why, I have a cook that has been with us over a month!

"Doppel hates to spend money." "I'll tell you how much. If it were possible to take gas every time he parts with a dollar, he'd take it."

"Don't hate a man because he has lots of money," counsels a Eureka philosopher. "Cultivate his acquaintance, and see if there isn't some honest way you can separate him from some of it."

NEWS FROM OVER THE STATE

Gallup is having an epidemic of scarlet fever.

Holbrook is to have a new $25,000 school building. Bonds have been issued for the building.

John Kikos, sent up for murder from Cochise county escaped from the penitentiary last week.

The electric light employees at Clifton are now on a strike and Clifton and Morenci are in darkness.

Seligman has been undergoing an epidemic of scarlet fever and the schools have been closed on that account.

The Needles lodge of Elks entertained the Kingman Elks on Thanksgiving, making it a day of sports, feasting and dancing.

Ex Governor L. C. Hughes, founder of the Tucson Star and father of ex-senator John Hughes, died last week at his home in Tucson.

Joe Crosby, a Bisbee burglar, confessed to having robbed a hardware store there recently, but has forgotten where he hid the plunder.

Frank Noyes, a well known business man of Kingman died suddenly from heart disease after undue exertion in running for a train.

Gustave Beecher died recently in Los Angeles. Mr. Beecher was a pioneer resident of Kingman, having settled there in the early 80's.

Los Angeles parties are figuring on putting in a gas plant at Winslow. The city council will submit the proposition for franchise to the voters.

The Babbitt warehouse at Holbrook has been completed. The building is 40x150 feet built of brick and stone with a basement. The building cost $8,500.

Refusing to be taken to strikers headquarters at Clifton, Pasimiro Martinez shot and killed Luciano Rameriz who attempted to force him to do so.

U. S. soldiers retaliated on Mexican snipers across the line last week, with the result that several Villalistas are now empty containers with no vivis left.

The reclamation service has advised water users under the Roosevelt dam that the project will not be opened before December 1916, but water will be charged for on a rental basis.

Commissioners Joseph Meyers and Hywell Davis of the U. S. department of labor, are at Clifton investigating the strike conditions there. Striking miners, business men and others are being called in as witnesses.

Warden Sims sent out black bordered invitations to the hanging of Faltin, then failed to hang him. He knew there would be no hanging when he sent them out, but supposed they would help create sympathy.

A determined effort is being made to have lands along the Little Colorado river restored to entry. The lands were withdrawn from entry in 1904 for a reclamation project but nothing will be done if energetic action is not taken in the matter. Otherwise they might be accidentally restored in 1940.

Walker Torito, an Indian boy, robbed the postoffice at Clarkdale last week, securing $700 worth of checks that were being sent to the Bank of Arizona. He attempted to cash a check by rubbing out the original name and inserting that of an Indian. He was bound over to the grand jury.

A prospector whose name is unknown met a horrible death along the Roosevelt power line last Saturday near Week's camp. He climbed a transmission tower, touched a wire carrying a tremendous voltage and fell to the ground burned beyond recognition. He was looking for stray burros when the accident happened.

A drunken Indian at Gallup attempted to hug a small white girl in the street. The Indian was found out in the hills hobbled. His Indian companions having hobbled him out to prevent his getting back to town. He was given a two month's sentence. The father of the little girl was fined $10 for allowing her out when under quarantine.

The rumor that Warden Sims had resigned after refusing to hang Faltin, is denied by the governor.

Auto racing has become a feature of Gallup sports. Five cars were entered for the race last Thursday.

A large collection of stolen goods was found cashed in a cave south of Williams last week. Much of the stolen plunder was identified. Prof. T. H. Cuerton was the owner of the greater part of the loot.

Dr. L. B. Ricketts, of Bisbee, was honored as the most distinguished Arizona citizen at the exercises at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Dr. Ricketts was named by Governor Hunt through selection by a committee because of his work of developing the mining resources of the state.

Eastern Arizona Roads

Highways in eastern Arizona are in better condition than ever before, according to Gustave Becker of Springerville. Forty-five thousand dollars of the $100,000 road bonds have been spent in Apache county this year, Becker said.

Running Anderson

LeRoy Anderson is a candidate for mayor. The peculiar thing is that Anderson is not a candidate of his own volition. At present he is in Los Angeles on a business trip and is unaware of the honor that his friends and the business element of the city are trying to thrust upon him.

Bowie Raises Snakes and Corn

The Bowie Valley can raise big snakes as well as big corn. Lew Riggs made The Enterprise a present Tuesday of a red racer's skin that said snake had left behind when he shed his summer coat, that measured about nine feet in length. These snakes, however, are not poisonous, and you need not be afraid to come on out to the Bowie Valley and get busy. The ladies out here kill snakes occasionally. Mrs. Bert Lawrence recently killed a rattler six feet long on the homestead south of town.—Bowie Enterprise.

Arizona to be Agricultural

It will surprise many to learn that agriculture in Arizona has any chance of becoming more important than mining. Yet such is the case. It has been estimated by competent authorities that, if the agricultural resources of Arizona are properly developed (not exploited), the time is not far distant when the total value of the State's agricultural products will reach $100,000,000. The output of Arizona's mines will probably be worth about $80,000,000 this year.

STATE SPENDS MORE MONEY THAN IT'S GOT

A total of $12,132.45 is the amount received from estates on account of the inheritance tax from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, according to the annual report of State Treasurer Mit Simms for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915.

The booklet containing the report consists of thirty-two pages and shows an itemized statement of finances of the state for the year and also a detailed report for the same period of the receipts and expenditures of the treasury, showing total annual revenue and payments, as required.

On the third page is a black bordered square embracing the words "Memorial, James J. Murphy, Deputy State Treasurer, Died at Prescott, Arizona, Friday, July 16, 1915."

Inheritance tax was received from eighteen estates during the year, the largest amount being $2769.13 from William H. Dunwoody. There was $996.60 received from Isabella Sands and $314.02 from Hans Herlick, of Maricopa county.

The total number of waivers issued for estates from which the state received no taxes, from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, was 108.

The receipts for the year amounted to $2,525,791.85 and the disbursements $2,702,041.58. There was a balance in the treasury on June 30, 1914, of $753,298.73. The deficit for the year ending June 30, 1915, was $176,249.73, leaving a balance June 30, 1915, of $577,049.

Tom, the country six-year-old, presenting himself one day in even more than his usual state of dust and disorder, was asked by his mother if he would not like to be a little city boy, and always be nice and clean in white suits and shoes and stockings. Tom answered scornfully: "They're not children; they're pets."

Jones—Here we are with no army, —in an absolute state of unpreparedness! I believe we ought to have what come in on de 13th.
